

Announcement

Dear Colleagues:

The 29th Annual Scientific Congress of the Arab Division of the International Academy of Pathology (IAP-AD) to be held in Muscat, Oman on November 15-18, 2017 in collaboration with the Oman Pathology Society is only few weeks from now. Please visit the website of the Congress at <http://omanpathology.com/conference/> to learn more about its rich program and register for this outstanding meeting. The program includes several educational sessions where top international pathologists will be making timely presentations in their respective fields. Please note the new venue of the Congress is at Grand Hyatt. Hotel.

The program also includes a one day pre-congress workshop on Gynecologic Pathology on November 15, 2017. This will include very instructive discussions of unique cases. Also rush to submit your abstracts and encourage the pathologists-in-training to do so as soon as possible. Ibn Al-Nafis Award is awaiting their academic contributions.

Oman is a very spectacular and scenic country where you will have special and touching experience in this hospitable Gulf country. Looking forward to seeing at this special event;
kindest regards,

Ghazi Zaatari, MD
Secretary
IAP-AD